

Storybeads

Storybeads workshops come in all shapes and sizes, just like the beads themselves!
Here a few favorite options.

Reenchanting the Hours –discover new ways to deepen each moment of your day, taking routine activities to the level of ritual and exploring the sacred in each moment. It's all too easy to hurry through our days "asleep at the wheel." Reenchanting the Hours will lead us through an exploration of the quality of our lives. We'll discover new ways to wake up to each moment, to become more fully present, and to find the extraordinary in the ordinary, one bead (hour) at a time!

The Hero's Journey – each bead represents a step on the Hero's Journey (The Call, Refusal of the Call, Accepting the Call, Gathering of Allies, Trials and Tribulations, Facing the Threshold Guardian, Gaining the Boon, Master of Both Worlds)

Team Commitments – with this business application, work and project teams solidify their shared vision and commitment, anchoring these commitments with beads

Storybeads for Caregivers – each bead represents a vital component of self-care and deepening for caregivers

Essence – rediscover your own creative essence and let each bead on your strand carry remind you of the specific gifts you bring to your world and how to further grow them

Community – a wonderful program for small groups or circles, each bead represents the essence of a separate member of your group as well as the coming together of the whole

Your Choice – you choose the unique combination of beads your group will work with, focusing on what you most wish to give attention to: balance, potential, learning from hardship, self care, joy, spiritual connection, project . . .

"Storybeads has given me a reminder of the daily ritual that I need to remember the true essence of myself. I now focus on the quality of being that I want to have now - my community and how I can bring those elements together to create beautiful rituals of self and others."
